Wireless Notebook Network Card

Connect your laptop to a wireless network

802.11b
11Mbps

Belkin wireless networking provides the perfect solution for the most advanced, cable-free installations. Our full line of products lets you create wireless networks in homes and offices where installing cabling is not practical or cost-effective. The Belkin Wireless Notebook Network Card slides into your notebook computer's CardBus slot to give you instant wireless networking capabilities. This Plug-and-Play card sets up easily on Windows® 98SE, Me, 2000, and XP. Interoperable with all 802.11b wireless devices, it uses the 802.11b wireless Ethernet standard to offer you a working range of up to 1800 feet and speeds of up to 11Mbps. Now you can transfer files around the house or office—without cables—faster than a wired 10Base-T Ethernet connection.
